C-3: Japanese Government (MEXT) Scholarship (Embassy Recommendation)

Note: Requires over 1 year advance application before starting at IUJ

2026 MEXT scholarship applications and awards have already been completed.

For 2027 consideration, contact the Japanese embassy or consulate nearest you for the application form and their schedule. After you pass the preliminary screening conducted by the Embassy or Consulate, then contact IUJ (we are not allowed to help you before passing that first screening). Please contact IUJ as soon as possible after passing the screening in order to allow enough time to complete the process considering summer holidays. IUJ will ask for TOEFL/IELTS scores and for the MBA/IMBA/DXP candidates the GMAT score, and other supportive documents. More information is at <https://www.iuj.ac.jp/admis/scholarship/mext/>

Note: As stipulated by MEXT, IUJ will accept MEXT scholars only for the period needed to complete the degree for which the scholar plans to enroll. An additional 6 months of Japanese language training is not necessary for MEXT scholars who enroll in IUJ.

IV. Scholarships Possible After Starting Classes at IUJ

Students may have some opportunities to apply for scholarships offered by the following foundations after enrolling in IUJ. Most require some Japanese language proficiency, so those in need of financial support are highly encouraged to study Japanese before coming to IUJ, and prepare to fill out scholarship applications in Japanese.

Scholarship Information is posted on the bulletin board on campus. For updates on these and possibly other applications, see <https://www.iuj.ac.jp/admis/scholarship/after-arrival/>

- JASSO Honors Scholarship (Monthly Stipend: 48,000 yen): Japan Student Services Organization (JASSO) provides a limited number of scholarships for international students who are fully or partially financed privately. Applications are accepted through IUJ with an IUJ recommendation after being enrolled in IUJ. The initial award is through March of your first year at IUJ. Only those who are from countries that JASSO specifies and participated in “studying in Japan” projects which are announced on the following 3 websites may be able to apply for a possible second application process for April to March scholarship awards. The process is very competitive and decided not only by GPA score but also by a balance of countries.
